

Chemistry

The buzzword most often associated with high performing teams is “chemistry”.

Chemistry is formed through connection, and at the heart of connection is communication.