

Quotes

If Players are to learn how to solve problems and make right judgement calls in the chaos of the arena, the coach's job is to shape the necessary skills for them to do so and to inform their decision making, not to make decisions for them.